Fabled mage, my brother and I have traveled from far away seeking a legendary relic.
sigh More cats?

Look, I've stopped giving out powerful magic artifacts to cats. It just never seems to turn out very well.
DUST
DUST

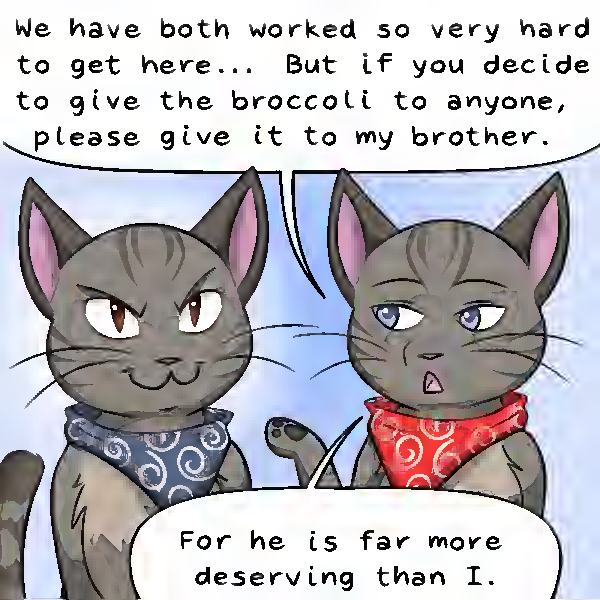
I understand.
But according to the prophecy, only you can award us this treasure.
The "Broccoli of Humility" is not powerful in itself, but is rather a prize reserved for the most humble of heroes.



We have both worked so very hard to get here... But if you decide to give the broccoli to anyone, please give it to my brother.
For he is far more deserving than I.

Hmm...
Well, if that's how you feel, perhaps it is you who deserves to possess this treasure.
The Broccoli of Humility is yours.

What?! No! He doesn't really mean that! He probably just wants it all to himself!
...

That relic is rightfully mine, damn it!!
